Annex F
Attachment to TCS-7753-60

COMINT/ELINT Annex

1. a. In addition to the sanitization policies and procedures contained in Section VII of the TALENT Manual, pertaining to photography, cartographic materials, intelligence reports, and like documents, the "Special" and "Emergency" usage provisions of DCID 6/3, Subject: "Communications Intelligence Regulations", will apply to all communications intelligence information considered for non-codeword usage.

b. Paragraphs 28-30 prescribe who may authorize, and under what conditions, the non-codeword use of Category III and Category II materials under the "Special Usage" provision of DCID 6/3.

c. Paragraphs 31-34 set forth the authorization and procedures for the dissemination and non-codeword use of such materials under the "Emergency Usage" provision of DCID 6/3.

d. Paragraphs 36-37 prescribe the degree of protection required of information related to COMINT or COMINT activities, in distinction to the COMINT product itself.

2. As ELINT materials do not receive code-word protection, broadly speaking, the procedures for security classification of ELINT are those stated in DOD Directive Number 5200.1, dated 8 July 1957. However, when ELINT information is combined with other information, the combination will be classified and protected according to the most highly classified and highly protected information used. For example, when TOP SECRET ELINT and SECRET Category II COMINT are combined, the classification will be TOP SECRET and the Category III codeword will be used. In such cases, the provisions of DCID 6/3 will apply when combined materials are considered for non-codeword usage, and dissemination to non-indoctrinated persons.
